DEAR JANE,

You've been highlighted.

We spent some time seeking a word of encouragement and prophecy for you.
You will find the outcome of that time in prayer in this Prophetic Report.

METHODOLOGY

In no way was your identity revealed. Utilizing a double blind methodology, you were assigned the code name of Female 1234. Members of Aqua Regia were then asked to seek a word of encouragement and prophecy for you. These words were collected via submission form and not discussed among the reporters. No details about you were revealed (such as whether you are married, have children, etc.)—only that you are female.

PROCESSING

Consider this report to be full of fun conversation starters for you and God.
Pay attention to what resonates and what you may feel led to pray into more.

Try reading it literally once. Everyone has their own lexicon with God, and He knows exactly which words and symbols are included in yours. After that, we suggest going back and reading it again through metaphorical glasses to see what is cloaked for interpretation. Search the deeper meaning for things that may not be obvious at first glance.

Sometimes a word will be relevant to you immediately; other times, it won't make sense because it is meant for a later date. If anything in this report doesn't resonate with you at all, feel free to simply ignore it, because we can certainly swing and miss.

PROCESSING

One of the beautiful things about the prophetic is that an amalgamation of different words is like a puzzle that comes together to give the recipient a picture of what God may be saying at any given point in time. Jigsaw puzzles often have one thing going on in the background and something else in the foreground; with the prophetic, you can choose which images come into focus.

Ultimately, the purpose of prophecy is so that we may know Him better (Ephesians 1:17). Our intent with prophetic reports is to encourage, exhort, and edify. We pray that this report does just that for you.

Coram Deo,

AQUA REGIA

LET THE TREASURE HUNT BEGIN!
SOLVE THE PUZZLE AND FIND HIS VOICE.

*God conceals the revelation of his word in the hiding place of his glory.
But the honor of kings is revealed by how they thoroughly search out the deeper meaning of all that God says.
(Proverbs 25:2 TPT)*

INTELLIGENCE BRIEFING

This section contains raw, uncategorized prophetic messages from the people on our team. Each spent several minutes tapping into God's heart for you and then capturing their impressions in writing, or sometimes drawing. They know nothing about you, such as whether you are single, married, a parent, etc.; they were given only a code name (for example, "Female 1234"). At no time did the people on our team discuss with each other the messages they were receiving before submitting them. As a result, the words below are truly the product of a double-blind methodology.

We recommend reading through this section with your senses fully alert. Stay attuned to what resonates with you and what moves you. Look for hidden meanings, themes, and patterns that emerge. We have no way of knowing anything about you, but God knows you and shares some of the details with us.

Resist the urge to make sense of every word. Some words or details may not apply. Focus on what does, and feel free to discard or shelve what doesn't at this time, but keep in mind that some things may make sense in the future.

You are someone who is competitive, determined and likes to set goals. You carry the ability to focus on whatever task is at hand and you can tune out whatever might represent itself as a distraction to what you are trying to achieve or whatever goal you are working towards. All of this allows you to be like an arrow that flies through the air, launched by the hands of the Lord. Wherever He aims, you are surely to go without hesitation and you He knows he can count on you to hit the bullseye!

I believe you will be entering into some sort of competition. I see you as athletic, competitive, strong, confident and function well under pressure. There is an event, like a bodybuilding competition or something that measures muscle strength that is coming up. You have been training for this and it has required a lot of focus and determination on your end. I see this happening after months and months of discipline, and I see tulips so I'm thinking it's springtime. You had to put your hat into the ring and give your "yes" in order to be a part of this and it was with much hesitation but I can see clearly that it will be the right choice for you and you won't regret it. It will be very rewarding.

I feel like you are going to win a trophy or receive some sort of recognition that will be well deserved.

CONTINUED ...

People around you are supportive but won't understand how you are pulling it off—it all looks like an insurmountable mountain to them. But it's an exciting challenge to you. You will be preparing by taking care of yourself at a whole new level—through food, exercise, meditation, rest, and cherishing yourself all during this time. Not everyone would be able to pull something like this off, so, hats off to you! You are definitely a go-getter. The envy of many.

FROM MELANIE K.

I see you coming into a mighty season of breakthrough. Your perseverance is now starting to pay off, says the Lord. I feel like this will take place by the end of the year. I see you at the kitchen sink doing dishes and you see a red Cardinal bird outside. Something about what the bird is doing will get your attention; this is a sign that the time is coming near. It will come in the form of a financial blessing in a timely manner. I see an office setting with a co-worker involved. I feel this is a financial breakthrough for you and your family. God has put something on your heart that you have wanted to sow into and steward for quite sometime and now you will have the financial blessing to do so. You are a gift giver and you carry the gift of multiplication. As you steward the financial blessing God has given you it will begin to multiply into even more financial blessings.

FROM KIM D.

Three keeps being highlighted to me. I sense that there are three opportunities that are becoming available for you. Opportunities to teach and train outside of your current circles. These opportunities serve as an expansion to what you currently do, not as a distraction. The opportunities will come in quick succession to the next. I sense that the first one will come in the way of a phone call and the next two will follow soon after. In order to prepare, I see you refining your teaching and training to create a smooth transition between points. As a sign that this is happening I see you finding or receiving a flower stem that has three blooming flowers on it.

You are an equipper, and you carry the ability to multitask well. You can juggle many things without one falling. You have great dexterity. I have an appreciation for you and what you do. It is significant and essential, thank you.

FROM SHONA S.

Your house will be a house of hospitality. You will have large gatherings, intimate gatherings, and everything in between. Your house may be small right now, but I see it being changed out for a much larger one. You will transition from the small house to a bigger one over many years, but the hospitality has already started. Hospitality comes easy to you. You are the whole welcoming committee. You prepare your house, greet the people, serve them, welcome them, and help them leave feeling like they were at home. There is a warmth inside your home that brings love and peace to those who enter. I see you taking care of someone who is on crutches or who has been hurt and needs a soft place to sit. You are an extraordinary caregiver. Ask the Lord to send you those special people who need extra comfort because you are able to provide that for them. Pray over your space, for each of those people coming to visit. You will see their lives transformed.

FROM SHANNON F.

A bread machine. I feel like the idea to produce resource/wealth is coming. On one morning as you do your routine, drinking coffee and browsing through a magazine/paper, the light bulb comes on. It seems ordinary and nothing special but the Lord is shedding light on the idea. You are able to pick it up in a revelatory way. It is not something unconventional but you can breathe into it a new spin. I see children giggling. I sense that there will be children involved, with children and for them as well. Because you are a creative person who has childlike mindset, you are very good at associating with children. In order to prepare for it, be steadfast, consistent, and faithful with your daily morning routine. In that morning routine, there is such brightness, communion, many exchange of ideas and interaction. If something not so special is highlighted, that is the sign that you can go with that and develop it. It seems very small idea but the idea seed form gets bigger just like when you remove air from vacuum packaged bag, the item inside opens up big.

I hear “sharp shooter.” I feel that the Lord wants to let you know that you are accurate in hearing Him, judging a situation. You carry the mindset of a judge. You are also quick. You can quickly analyze and judge a situation. You are such a leader with determination and boldness. You are fearless. You know how to move forward in spite of resistance or opposition once you know “this is the way.” You have such a compassionate heart toward people. Your leadership shines around people; you exercise your leadership not to accomplish certain tasks but to give life to people.
